Women Have Always Loved Bad Boys. In the 50's, Marlon Brando and James Dean brought a whole new level of being a bad boy to the big screen in movies like A Streetcar Named Desire and Rebel Without a Cause and women simply couldn't handle the "emotions" and "feelings" coming up as they watched. They reported feeling strong "sexual urges" and physical responses they weren't ...

My boys really love the Andrew Clements books- while not laugh-out-loud funny in the way some of these are, there are a lot of chuckle moments and he has a TON to choose from (I recommend Frindle). Some parents might roll eyes at this suggestion, but the Captain Underpants series is full of 3rd grade boy gross-out humor.

It happens on the day girls start spitting farther, shooting better, and completing more passes than boys. When that day comes, we start to get the message in subtle and not so subtle ways that its best if we focus on staying thin, minding our manners, and not being so smart or speaking out so much in class that we call attention to our intellect.
